Don't take our word for it, here what some of our clients have said about the tour.

This tour was a real gem and covered coffee, cheese, meats, and chocolates from around the world. We went to a coffee shop where the owner roasted his own beans that were imported from the Caribbean. The cheese shop featured items from France and other countries in Europe. We were taken to a store that supplied meat, olives, and other items for both amateur and professional chefs. Our final stop was a chocolate shop that produces several interesting combination of spices in their product. Throughout the four-hour trip, our hosts drove us around town, showcasing the highlights of Wellington, including multiple views of the scenic harbour. I highly recommend this trip as you learn about a variety of food and beverages from all over the world and get to take in the beautiful scenery offered by the Wellington area.

We had a really fun, relaxed day with Jon and Joe (who did the driving). We have been in Wellington a couple of years now and wanted to find some places that were off the beaten track or less well-known. Starting with a real treat of a coffee education in Brooklyn all the way to some beer-tasting in Petone at the end we got to see where to buy cheese, chocolates, cured meat and a whole host of other goodies.

Jon clearly knows his stuff and we got some great tips about where to buy stuff and what to buy. the day was everything we wanted it to be. thanks guys!

Quiet...don't tell anyone! Let it be a secret, the Food and Spice Odessey tour is a very special local foodie tour. Jon and Jo took us(3 couples) to enjoy and sample, coffee, international nibbles, cheese, local beers and so much more. The tour exceeded our expectations, enlightened us with coffee roasting and craft beer creativity, and were delighted to experience Wellington with two amazing hosts. Thanks for a fabulous day!
