SOUTH AFRICAN

WINES

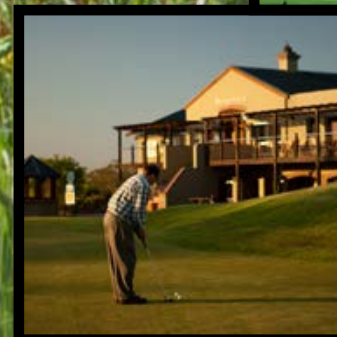

A Hidden Gem

A little known fact to many is that Devonvale Golf Course has been around for more than 50 years. Originally part of the famous Hartenberg Wine Farm, Devonvale first served as a gravel quarry in the 1950s before being converted into a golf course.

Under the current ownership and astute helmsmanship of South African sailing legend JJ Provoyeur, Devonvale has been transformed into the hidden gem of the Winelands region.

Much has changed over the years with the extensive renovations and improvements lending an ambience that is now decidedly upmarket and sophisticated, but the Estate has still managed to retain it's country course friendly charm and professional 'go-out-of-our-way' approach that makes you feel completely at home. The Championship 18-hole Cape golf course, with plenty of wildlife and surrounded by Shiraz vineyards, offers a challenge not to be underestimated and a sundowner on the Restaurant deck must mark as the perfect way to end a perfect day.

Drive or Putt?

Devonvale is set in the heart of the Stellenbosch Winelands. This location, on valley slopes, allows for wonderful mountain and vineyard views and the scenery is further enhanced by the abundance of established trees throughout the course.

It is a championship golf course which suits all level golfers and must be rated one of the best conditioned courses in the Cape. With plenty of wildlife such as Springbok, squirrels, geese, ducks and variety of birdlife no round will ever be the same.

Our practice facilities are world class and we provide a 200 meter driving range, chipping and putting green. The South African Women's Golf Team makes use of Devonvale as one of their practise facilities. Our golf pro Anna Becker-Frankel is in charge of this illustrious group. We often host tournaments and this is made easy for participants as our 4-star hotel is right here on the estate, which also makes a golfing holiday here a stress free occasion.

The restaurant has genuine hospitable warmth with friendly staff greeting you at the door on arrival. Chez Shiraz serves buffet style breakfast every morning and has a lunch and dinner menu.

Work or Play

The conferencing and events side of the business has grown to be almost equal to golf in value - it is a business well worth nurturing as the full potential has not yet been reached. The current facility comprises of 4 areas and can cater for up to 280 delegates:

- The "Indaba Room", (300m² with a dance floor)
- The "Blumberg Room" (160m²)
- The clubhouse lounge (200m²)
- The wine tasting room, (30m²)

The intention is to increase this capacity with another 200m² and accommodation to complement. The conferencing and eventing sectors have therefore been expanded over the past years and Devonvale has become a popular choice for many companies and government departments. This means the staff stay occupied year round and the estate get "heads on pillows" while Devonvale becomes known to more and more people.

A city alive with opportunity

The Mother City is an old favourite with locals and travelers alike. Defined by the magnificent silhouette of Table Mountain, it towers over pristine white beaches, trendy cafes, restaurants, vineyards and the lively city of Cape Town. It is a vibrant pot of people, energy, culture, colour and sound that draws you in, captures your heart and leaves you yearning for more. Having experienced a recent rejuvenation that culminated in selection as World Design Capital for 2014, it is seen as Africa, and now the world's, gateway to innovation, diversity and creative talent.

Cape Town, it seems, is the darling of the international travel world as accolades for the beautiful Mother City continue to roll in. After making Tripadvisor Travellers Choice list of top 25 destinations worldwide and nominated top holiday destination for the year by British newspaper The Guardian and the US's The New York Times, Cape Town has now been voted the world's 3rd best must-visit city in the Lonely Planet's Best in Travel 2014 – Top 10 Cities.
