"In my honest and humble opinion Stuart Wardle represents all that is good in fly fishing. Professional, organised wholly versed in a vast array of skills and current techniques; beyond that, he is a damn good fly fisher. I guarantee not only will you learn volumes from being in his company; but have more fun than you could ever imagine by a river or lake side. I just wish he lived closer to me so that we could fish more often."

This includes the most up to date methods, tactics and professional guiding services. Need advice on pulling together your tackle requirements? Let us know and we can help, advise or arrange.

All services are provided by a professional fully qualified coach and well respected international fly fisher.
