Be Robinson Amsterdam

Event description

The Robinson experience encompasses a variety of challenges. Teams will be tested on their creativity, endurance, flexibility and of course muscle power. Each team is assigned an Island from which they will take on the other teams in a variety of challenges. There is a strong teambuilding aspect to each challenge so team cooperation is an essential ingredient for success. You will need all of the team members to complete each challenge.

The Robinson experience consists of 6 parts. The first priority is to make the team flag, it will be judged on creativity and form. The flags are the team mascots and must be present at all the challenges. Positive votes can be earned by successfully completing each challenge and with enough votes your team could advance through to the final! Which team has got what it takes to be a real Robinson?

Flags: The first task is all about making the team flags. Each team is assigned a theme and a color. With the materials provided is up to your team to make the most spectacular flag, points will be awarded for creativity, originality and the 'wow' factor. The winning flag will receive extra votes for the Island council.

Challenge 1: The walking A. With the materials provided each team must construct a stable (A) frame. One team member will take position on the frame. The goal is to maneuver the frame vertically across a course in the shortest possible time. The A frame can be guided by 4 team members using ropes attached to the top of the frame. The team with the fastest time will be the winner of this challenge.

Challenge 2: The Blindman. The playing field is filled with numbered balls, the object is to place as many balls in the correct bucket, in the correct order. Easy....not if the player is blindfolded. Teammates can coach the player from the sidelines. Guaranteed to be chaos!

Challenge 3: Tactical rope pulling. This challenge not only requires strength but also relies on balance and tactics. Players will stand on a crate and try to pull the other off balance. Do you pull on the rope or let go...what tactics will you use for the win?

Challenge 4: The Einstein run. A combination of speed and general knowledge is essential for this challenge. The quizmaster sits in the center of the playing field. Teams take positions around him in a star pattern. In a relay race team members will run to the quizmaster for their questions, answer correctly and you earn a point for your team. If your answer is wrong you can either run back to your team and ask for help or a new team member has to take their turn.

The Island Council: After the challenges have been completed each team will decide which team member will fight it out in the grand finale. The points earned during the challenges are converted to votes. If used tactically these votes can be used to elect more team members to participate in the final thus increasing your chance.

Grand Finale: The team members elected to play in the final will represent their team for the overall win. During the ultimate trivia quiz finalists will be able to earn blocks for every correct answer. Each block will be used to make a tower, the finalist with the highest tower is ultimately the winner. However, should your tower fall you have to begin from scratch.

Robinson Teambuilding Games Amsterdam

Event description

The Robinson experience encompasses a variety of challenges. Teams will be tested on their creativity, endurance, flexibility and of course muscle power. Each team is assigned an Island from which they will take on the other teams in a variety of challenges. There is a strong teambuilding aspect to each challenge so team cooperation is an essential ingredient for success. Positive votes can be earned by successfully completing each challenge and with enough votes your team could advance through to the final! Which team has got what it takes to be a real Robinson?

The Challenges:

Bandera and Flag Art

The first event is all about making the team flag and bandera. Each team is assigned a theme and a color. With the materials provided is up to your team to make the most spectacular flag and banderas. Points will be awarded for creativity, originality and the 'wow' factor.

Puzzelmania

The challenge is to make as many words as possible with the letter blocks scattered across the playing field. Words have to be earned through making puzzles and solving riddles. Each team also has a bucket of water which slowly leaks. If the bucket becomes empty its game over for your team. Water can be added to the bucket but then your team can not search for letters while the water is being replenished. With the right tactics and timing your team could end up on top. Which team will form the most words without their bucket running out of water?

The Bamboo Build:

A technical challenge, building bamboo structures, with time constraints. Within the allotted time, which team can build the highest tower using only rubber bands and bamboo sticks. This is challenging teambuilding event which requires creativity, insight and most importantly team cooperation and communication.

Island take-over

A field of Islands (crates) with 2 beams stretching from corner to corner across the playing field. Each team must get across the beam to the other corner without touching the ground. If a team member does fall off, the whole team has to start again. Teams can block each others way by utilizing the islands and cutting the other team off. This challenge requires a tactical approach and a keen eye!

The famous wooden beam challenge:

Almost everybody is familiar with the wooden beam challenge from the hit TV show Expedition Robinson. We will play a variation of this popular challenge. Team members will stand on the beam together and be assigned tasks. Arrange yourselves on the beam according to age or in order of shoe size. The team which accomplishes this in the fastest time, without falling, earns the points. Too easy? How about completing the tasks without talking? Still too easy, get ready to be blindfolded!

Team Building Games

Event description

Teambuilding - the use of different types of team interventions that are aimed at enhancing social relations within a group and clarifying team members' roles, as well as collectively solving problems to achieve the desired results. The 'Teambuilding Games' focus on these aspects, which team works and communicates with each other to achieve the best results. The group will be divided into teams, in each challenge points can be earned. Which team will come together and win the challenges?

From the teambuilding games listed below, 5 games can be selected for the Teambuilding challenge:

1. Raft Building Each team receives a number of wooden beams, barrels (drums) and a length of rope. The challenge is to build a raft which can hold as many team members as possible. For every person the raft holds points will be awarded, if they manage to beat the other team of course. Before venturing out on to the water each raft is given the same number of paddles. Which team will finish the course first?
2. Transport the Ball and Transport the ball Each team is given a ring and all participants are given a length of rope. The rope is tied to the ring. A ball is placed in the ring. Each team has to try and get the ring into the air without the ball falling to the ground. Once each team has their ring in the air they will complete an obstacle course, the ball must stay in the ring. If the ball does fall, that team will have to begin anew from the ground where the ball fell. As a warning to those who already have a great idea...the ropes must be taught at all times! Rope Figure Each team member is blindfolded and holds on to a piece of long rope. Each team has 15 minutes to make a square with the length of rope they are holding. After 15 minutes the rope is placed on the ground. Which team will come closest to making the perfect square?
3. Catapult Both teams will be given some wooden beams, rope and elastic. Which team will build the best catapult in 15 minutes? The team which manages to fire the ball the furthest is declared the winner.
4. Collaborative skills A combination of small games in which every team member must contribute. Which team will have the best collaborative skills? - Whilst holding hands the team will form a circle. Between two team members holding hands there is a hula-hoop hanging from their arms. The challenge, make the hula-hoop do a full circle of the group as fast as possible. Step through the hula-hoop but don't break the circle. - Put your two index fingers under the hula-hoop. Once all the team members have done this the challenge is to put the hula-hoop on the ground as quick as possible without breaking contact with the hoop. Sounds a lot easier than it actually is... - Team members will sit in a small circle with their backs to each other and arms interlinked. The team which manages to stand up in the fastest time wins. However, the circle must not be broken!
5. Tower construction Which team can build the best and the highest tower? Keep in mind that the whole team has to be able to stand on the tower for at least 1 minute. Each team will be given the same materials to construct the tower with. The team with the highest tower which can support the whole team for a minute takes the points and wins this challenge.
6. Silent Order The goal of this challenge is to organize the team in a certain order without speaking to each other. To make it a little more challenging, your team will be standing on a narrow raised platform. Each team has to construct this platform and make it as sturdy as possible with the materials supplied. During the challenge, if a team member falls from the platform they will lose points. The team which completes the challenge, in the correct order and in the fastest time, wins.

Graffiti Workshop

Event description

Graffiti is considered an art form and examples have been found dating back to the ancient Egyptians, Vikings and Romans. The term "graffiti" comes from the Latin word "graffiare" drawings that have been scribbled, scratched, or painted illicitly on a wall or other surface, often in a public place. This workshop is all about the modern version of Graffiti. Armed with graffiti spraycans we can start making our own graffiti.

The workshop begins with learning the basics of graffiti art. We will practice the basics in a fun exercise until you get to grips with the various graffiti techniques. Once the basics have been mastered the group will be split into teams and each team will be given a canvas to work with. Starting with a brainstorm session, each team will decide on the subject matter which correlates to the theme of the day. Time to get busy and spray-paint some graffiti artwork! Once finished, each team has the opportunity to present their graffiti art and give a short presentation on their subject matter and how it ties in with the theme of the day.

In a thrilling team on team competition it comes down to steady hands, a fast broom and tactical placement of your Curling stones. The essential ingredient, teamwork! Which team has the best curling skills?

This event can be combined with the following games:

Party on Ice Amsterdam

Event description

A great winter event based on a series of original games played on the ice! Teamwork and fun are the key ingredients of this event. The games are played on a rotation basis, teams rotating from one activity to the next. Games include:

Human Icebowling

The ingredients for this event include a sled, a person, 10 bowling pins and a lot of hilarious moments, this is human ice bowling. Place the human torpedo on the sled and fire away! Will your team make the strike?

Human Curling on an inner tube

Curling as described below but with human curling stones! Together with your team you try to get the inner tube with one of your teammates aboard as close as possible to the center of the circles at the other end of the course.

Rodelslalom on Ice

Try to complete an ice slalom course on on a traditional Dutch rodelsee. This competition is in a team relay form.

Jeu d'Ice

The popular French game but then on the ice! With a special hockey stick and several different colored pucks you take to the ice. The but is placed and the competition can begin. The object of the game is to get your pucks as close as possible to the but. Will you knock your opponents pucks from the field and become a real ITireur, or will you be crowned the Pointeur of the day?

Fun Curling*

Most of us have seen curling on TV . It's that Olympic team sport with the stone and the brush. The aim of the game is to place more of your curling stones as close too, or in the center circle than your opponents can. We will first teach you the basic techniques of curling and use these techniques in a practice session. Ready for some competition? For the ice we use special curling stones, the Fun Curling Stones.

We advise warm clothing.
