

Solo IAD

Solo Instructor Assisted Deployment (IAD) is a training method that opens your parachute almost immediately upon leaving the aircraft (about 2-4 sec freefall). With this thrilling 'do it by yourself' method, you are never attached to the plane (like static line), and the deployment sequence is identical to the way experienced skydivers open their own parachutes. Classes are held various Saturdays and Sundays (reservations required), late-April through early-October. Training starts in the morning and, if weather permits, you will jump in the afternoon from 3500 feet. Radio contact assists you in landing safely (4-6 minute canopy ride). A HD digital color video of your exit is available for purchase. Reservations required.

Tandem

Jump from 10,000 feet attached to your instructor with a parachute built for two! Tandem skydiving has made it easy to enjoy the exciting sport of skydiving (late-April through October). You will be harnessed to the front of a fully licensed, professional and friendly tandem instructor. Go along for the ride of your life! Your instructor is in charge every step of the way and guides the jump, from aircraft exit, to freefall (for about 30 seconds at 120 MPH!), opens the canopy (parachute), to a comfortable, accurate landing (about 6-8 minutes). For more fun, you can purchase a HD video of your entire amazing jump taken by one of our aerial photographers. Appointment necessary. Approximately an hour of training.

For prices, see Prices later in this brochure.

Seven Hills Skydiving Club

Seven Hills Skydivers is a not-for-profit, all volunteer, member owned and operated club. In business to promote skydiving and introduce people to the sport by training students and performing demo jumps, we have been in existence since 1962 - over 53 years! Safety is our main priority and our record is second to none! The home of World Record holders and National Champions, the club is located about 15 minutes past East Towne Mall, just outside Madison, WI. We are a Group Member in good standing with the United States Parachute Association (USPA) and use only USPA licensed instructors and coaches. Seven Hills Skydivers utilizes modern, state of the art skydiving equipment:

- Ram Air (square) parachutes that actually glide for slow descents and soft landings.
- Automatic Activation Devices (AAD), in the unlikely event that your reserve parachute must be used.
- Helmet, goggles, jumpsuit, altimeter, and radio enable us to help you fly the parachute and make a safe, soft landing.
- Two Cessna 182 aircraft, both flown by commercially licensed pilots.

We will make your first jump a safe and exciting adventure. There is absolutely nothing like the feeling you get when you make your first skydive! Skydiving is more than jumping out of an airplane. It's stepping out into a different world, a world of human flight, where you can actually FLY! Try it once and you will never be the same! Whenever you look skyward, you'll want to be up there. Come jump with people that do it for the love of the sport! Go for it!

Blue Skies!!

Training Programs

There are 2 types of training programs. You can choose either one for your first skydive (no experience needed):

- 1) Solo IAD (Instructor Assisted Deployment)
OR
- 2) Tandem (strapped to the front of an Instructor)

IAD classes are held on various Saturdays and Sundays (reservations required) from late-April through early-October. The class starts at 8 a.m., rain or shine. You'll be jumping in the afternoon, weather permitting, so plan on spending the whole day.

Tandem classes are by appointment only and are approximately only an hour, late-April through October. You will jump after that, weather permitting.

Both methods – train and jump on the same day. We make every effort, but low clouds, rain or high winds may delay your actual jump. Classes fill up fast, so call now to make your reservations.

Requirements

You must be 18 or over, want to have fun, be in good health, and weigh no more than 225 pounds in order to jump with us. No prior experience is necessary. A $100 deposit is required to reserve your spot in a class or an appointment. Please refrain from alcohol for at least 12 hours before the course. Bring comfortable clothing, sneakers (no sandals) and a government issued photo ID.
