Online shop

Visit our online shop filled with beautiful quality products and seeds, including our popular sweet pea varieties. Buy snowdrop bunches by post or tickets for the gardens for friends and family or book on one of our workshops for a memorable day out.

Workshops

Our popular artisan workshops are a great way to meet new people and learn new skills in the beautiful surroundings of the gardens.

Membership

Becoming a Friend of Easton Walled Gardens is a chance to be involved in the gardens in a way not usually available to visitors, and to benefit from season ticket rates.

Groups

We welcome groups to the gardens throughout the season. Popular events for groups to visit the gardens include Snowdrop Week in February, Sweet Pea Week in July and The Autumn Country Market in September.

The Easton Estate

The gardens are part of The Easton Estate. A traditional rural estate, set in the rolling countryside of the Lincolnshire/Rutland borders. Owned and managed by the Cholmeley family since 1561, Easton is a contemporary estate run on traditional lines.

WALLED GARDENS

“Superb, inspirational, a delight from flowers to food”

The Meadow Retreat

Experience the gardens in a different way. Simply reserve the date of your choice, pick up the key at admissions and spend the day in your own exclusive 'beach hut' in the Cedar Meadow.

For just £25 the retreat can be booked for up to 6 people to celebrate special days.

See the website or call Angela for more details.

The Coach House

The sympathetically restored old Coach House is now available for families, groups and corporate visitors to use. The Coach House offers the opportunity to host meetings or family celebrations in a beautiful setting.

More details and images can be found on our website.

Tearoom

Our five star rated tearoom is open from 11.00 am - 4.00 pm when the gardens are open serving delicious, quality, homemade food. We offer homemade soup (using local produce) jacket potatoes, gardener's lunch and filled baguettes, as well as homemade cakes and cream teas.

Please note: the tearoom is open for visitors to the gardens only.

Open 4 days a week

When we started to reclaim this 400-year-old garden in 2001, I had no idea if we could make a permanent difference. All the buildings were on the National At Risk Register and self-sown trees swamped the grounds (abandoned when the house was demolished in 1951). That was 17 years ago and the chaos has now been replaced by meadows, sweet peas, roses, vegetables, cutflowers and drifts of bulbs in a stunning parkland setting.

The revival of the gardens has put the heart back into the village and most of our community now has some involvement from taking group bookings to serving your tea or helping to harvest sweet pea seed. It's not just people who benefit, the gardens are managed to create different habitats for butterflies, bees, birds and mammals. The rose meadows, terraces and spring meadows provide a sanctuary for wildlife and the river draws a diverse number of animals and birds to the gardens throughout the year.

We love sharing our beautiful garden and look forward to welcoming both new and returning visitors in 2018.

Best wishes Wanda Chubb

Snowdrop Week

Open daily from 17th - 25th February 2018

Wrap up warm for a winter walk full of glorious snowdrop displays. New this year, a Botanical Art Exhibition featuring the work of three accomplished botanical artists. Enjoy delicious teas and light lunches, follow the amazing story of the gardens in the history room and take home your own Easton snowdrops.

Sweet Pea Week

Open daily from 1st - 8th July 2018

Every year we raise hundreds of sweet pea plants from seed in the greenhouses. You can see heritage, modern, scented, striped, flake and bicolour sweet peas, displayed on drums and wigwams. We also have 50 varieties of roses flowering in the meadows and borders.

Autumn Country Market

Sunday 2nd September 2018

Now in it's 13th year, this popular country market showcases over 60 stalls of the best artisan crafts and produce our region has to offer. Enjoy craft demonstrations, plant sales and much more at this wonderful event.
