RAW INGREDIENTS

When it comes to the great and transcendent among hand-craft distilled spirits, what goes in rules what comes out. This requires the finest grain, expert growing techniques and passion. The beauty of making alcoholic spirits is all about nature. Water, Earth and Sun all have a hand in creating the finest raw materials, which in turn produce the unique flavor profiles in our hand-crafted spirits.

Dented Brick Distillery takes it one step further. We are committed to purchasing regionally produced, organic, non-GMO raw materials for our spirits. Our master distillers will be enhancing the subtleties of the minerals found in our artesian water as well as combining the essence of the raw materials creating a uniqueness all our own.

OUR STORY

From the start, we've been passionate about crafting absolutely original spirits. As we stood on the front porch of the old brick house, we knew we'd found the right place to build our distillery.

Originally built in 1919, the home had character and a colorful history. As demolition began, we pulled the bricks from the old house down by hand and kept them all - even the dented ones. Today, they are part of the new distillery.

What's more, the 14,000 square foot, state-of-the-art facility straddles the original homesteads' artesian well, once the prize possession of a pioneer well-driller. The exceptional circumstances of the drilled aquifer was rich enough to turn his competitors green with envy, and still produces the same quality water for our spirits.

DBD blends innovative technology with time-tested principles in a historic setting. We produce spirits that start with distiller-selected fine raw materials and artesian water entirely in-house with no shortcuts.

ARTESIAN WELL

Serendipity is defined as an unexpected, fortuitous outcome arising as a result of the confluence of a number of unlikely chance factors. OK, so let's call it geological serendipity.

Along the Wasatch Front and for most of Northwestern Utah, special circumstances exist where the surface runoff and ground-water components of the hydrologic cycle cannot flow to the ocean and are limited to the Great Salt Lake's closed basin. The water flows through the porous rock shedding impurities, picking up minerals and is finally forced back up to the surface under the natural pressure of the aquifer.

The lake-bed is a gift from heaven. The bedding plane is composed of a sandy gravel perfect for filtration of snow melt for our artesian well. Its high mineral content is ideal for fermentation, a dream sequence for a pure product from our distillery.

Water is one of the most important ingredients to the distillation of spirits. Weaving history and geology with the art of spirits and technology is what makes Dented Brick Distillery a new landmark in the Great Salt Lake Valley.
