Our company Given2FlyAdventures started when a group of experienced outdoor industry instructors combined their knowledge of adventure sports with skills acquired from years of working in the hospitality industry to create a unique way to explore hidden treasures of Croatia.

We are all outdoor experts and activity fans with a deep understanding of rock climbing, sailing, hiking and kayaking, who decided to use insider's knowledge to design the best adventures for all. We dedicate our time to help people discover Croatia and exposing them to new experiences and teaching a new generation of climbers, mountain trekkers and outdoor lovers.
