Diving and desert adventures in the land of Lawrence of Arabia

Located on the Gulf of Aqaba in the southernmost part of Jordan, Aqaba is the only port city in Jordan. The port was already known in ancient times dating back 4000 years and was the gateway to southern Arabia, Egypt, India and China. Surrounded by mountainous deserts, Aqaba is not far from other attractions in Jordan, such as the desert Valley of Wadi Rum and the ancient city of Petra. But without a doubt the main attractions in Aqaba are the pristine coral reefs, all part of the Marine Park and protected. Aqaba has a dry desert climate with hot and summers and warm and pleasant winters. The city can be regarded a year round destination with the best month for diving from April to November.
