WHAT IS THE GOLDEN CIRCLE?

The Golden Circle refers to a popular route that covers some of Iceland's most stunning sights. It takes in three striking sights within 130 km of our capital city.

Pingvellir National Park

A UNESCO world heritage site important in terms of history, culture and geology. Iceland's largest lake and the site of the Alþingi assembly – the world's oldest parliament.

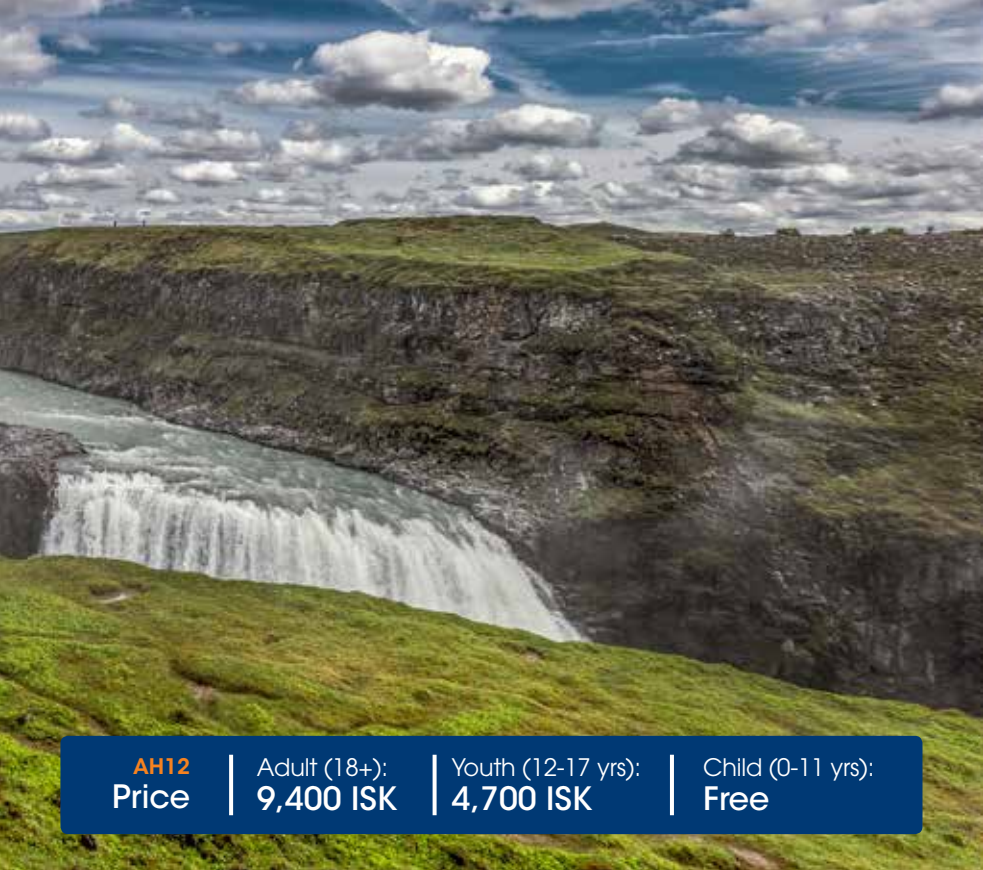

Hot springs at Geysir geothermal area

Be prepared for the Strokkur hot spring, the world's most reliable geyser, shooting hot water 20 metres into the air every 4-8 minutes.

Gullfoss waterfall

This is Iceland's most famous waterfall. It drops a whopping 32 metres and, as you can imagine, creates quite a lot of spray that forms beautiful rainbows during sunny days.

MOVIE & MUSIC TOUR

From Star Wars to Justin Bieber – a visit to some of the locations used in recent years to shoot films and music videos in Iceland.

This tour will take you to some of the most beautiful places on the south coast of Iceland. What they all have in common is that they became even better known when used by film makers and musicians for their projects. You will visit the haunted mountain Hjórléifshöfði where Rogue One: A Star Wars Story (2016) was partly filmed.

Skógafoss waterfall was used in sequences set in the mythical home of the gods, Asgard in the film Thor 2: The Dark World (2013). The Secret Life of Walter Mitty (2013) and Dilwale (2015) were also partly shot here.

The abandoned US Navy plane wreck at the black sands of Sólheimasandur is one of those must-visit places. The plane appeared in Justin Bieber's music video "I'll show you."

Reynisfjara beach is often referred to as the most impressive beach in Iceland. The last scenes of Noah (2014) were filmed here. It was also used for shots in Star Trek: Into Darkness (2013).

During the "Movie & Music Tour" you will visit places that may look familiar to you. You might want to watch some of your favorite films all over after having been on this tour.

An exclusive, once-in-a-lifetime adventure to Iceland's most significant new attraction: the man-made Ice Cave in Langjökull glacier.

WATERFALLS, GLACIER & VOLCANO

– See the view from the top of Mt. Eyjafjallajökull

This tour combines a visit to waterfalls, a glacier and a volcano; a trio sometimes said to be kind of a trademark for what can be seen in Iceland.

We will start by driving to a viewpoint on the edge of Mt. Hellsheiði east of Reykjavík before we take a look at Urriðafoss waterfall, located in a glacial river called Þjórsá.

Further east we will stop to explore the area surrounding the waterfalls Seljalandsfoss and Gjúfrabúi; the former being the one you can walk behind.

Gígjökull is one of many outlet glaciers of the larger Eyjafjallajökull glacier. This is where part of the meltwater from the Eyjafjallajökull eruption in 2010 came down to the lowlands.

At this point we board a Super Truck and head up to Eyjafjallajökull glacier. The truck and Eyjafjallajökull have one thing in common; both are one of a kind.

This tour offers you an experience worth a spot on your bucket list.

SOUTH COAST & JÖKULSÁRLÓN GLACIER LAGOON

On this tour you will travel along Iceland's south coast on the narrow strip of lush farmland that cuts between mountains, glaciers and the vast Atlantic ocean.

The route is lined with natural treasures including the iconic Seljalandsfoss and Skógafoss waterfalls, Skaftafell National Park, and Vatnajökull glacier to name but a few.

Passing the southern edge of the mighty Vatnajökull glacier roughly midway between Reykjavík and Jökulsárlón glacier lagoon, Skaftafell National Park offers magnificent views of glaciers, rivers and endless plains of sand. Skaftafell is a part of Vatnajökull glacier National Park, which stretches over an area of 14,000 square km, or roughly 10 times the size of London. When you think nothing can beat the scenery, Jökulsárlón glacier lagoon opens up before your eyes and takes your breath away. Packed with icebergs in various shades of white and blue, the lagoon's extraordinary scenery is popular with travellers, photographers and filmmakers from all over the world.

Specialized amphibious vehicles take visitors out onto the lagoon, sailing among the enormous chunks of ice. Various bird species can be seen feeding in and around the lagoon and seals are a fairly common sight both at the mouth of the lagoon and at the seaside beach.

SOUTH COAST & WATERFALLS

Travel through the ever-changing landscape of south Iceland; a landscape truly shaped by the combination of glaciers and volcanos.

This tour takes you through the area that was covered with layers of ash from the Eyjafjallajökull eruption in 2010. We are talking about the eruption that caused disruption for many local people when they had to evacuate their home and all the travellers who found out that their flights were cancelled due to it.

Enjoy the rainbows at Skógafoss waterfall and learn about the legend of Prasi who was a settler said to have buried a chest of gold under the waterfall. You will get the chance to take a walk on the black sands of Reynisfjara beach with surrounding basalt columns, cliffs and a cave.

We will take you towards Sólheimajökull glacier with its little lagoon where small icebergs are usually seen floating around.

Seljalandsfoss waterfall is the one you can walk behind if you feel like it before we return to Reykjavik.

This tour combines visits to some of the most beautiful places on the south coast of Iceland.

INSIDE THE VOLCANO

Ever wondered what a volcano looks like on the inside? This unique volcano tour takes you literally inside a dormant volcano, through the top crater and to the bottom of its magma chamber, once filled with steaming hot lava.

The dormant Þríhnúkgígur volcano (yeah, good luck trying to pronounce it!) is a unique natural phenomenon. By putting up the necessary gear and equipment, we've created a tour that opens the door to a new world. It only takes a 50 minute hike to the crater and then the guts to descend 120 metres/400 ft to the bottom of the crater in an open cable lift.

All safety gear, helmets, harnesses, etc. are included, along with traditional Icelandic meat soup and other refreshments.

For more information on departures to and from Reykjavik and Þríhnúkgígur please visit grayline.is

If you have any special needs and/or requests you should notify the Gray Line customer service desk as soon as possible. Gray Line tries to fulfill its customers wishes at all times. Gray Line welcomes foldable wheelchairs on its buses without additional cost.

10. Re-boarding after stops and rest breaks

When you leave the bus during stops and rest breaks when on Day Tours with Gray Line, it is your responsibility to ensure you re-board the bus at the scheduled departure time. If you are missing or late the bus will not wait for you. Gray Line will not give any refunds or payment for consequential loss in the event if you do not board the bus before it leaves each stop. In such an event, you will have to re-book or find alternative transport arrangements at your own expense.

11. Safety on board the buses

The safety and comfort of Gray Line's customers is our main goal.

The Gray Line fleet includes buses of all types and sizes, which are all equipped with safety belts.

According to Icelandic law it is mandatory to wear safety belts in motor vehicles. All customers of Gray Line are required to use safety belts when travelling with out buses.

Gray Line has a limited number of children's safety car seats available upon request, free of charge.

12. Clothing

Sturdy shoes and warm outdoor wear should be worn when travelling in Iceland during all seasons. Most tours include some kind of short walk and/or hike in nature.

13. Lost & found

If you lose clothes and/or other items in your possession during your trip with us, you can contact our Vendor or send an e-mail to iceland@grayline.is.

Gray Line takes no liability for any kind of damage and/or loss of items in its tour buses.

In the event of an item being found in our tour bus, Gray Line takes it aside and keeps it for a period of 30 days from the date it is found. If you contact us within the time limit mentioned and the item is found, you must provide us with an address to send it to as soon as practicable. You must pay the cost of delivering the item. In such an event, if we do not have an address, we will give the item to charity and accept no liability for the item being given to charity.

14. Food & beverages

Food and beverages are not allowed on board our buses.
