"It was very well organised and went to places we would not normally find travelling as tourists. Helena has a huge knowledge about the city and the history of New Zealand. We learned a lot and we had a ton of fun. All the food we tasted was mouthwatering. We highly recommend the Zest Food Tour".

"At the beginning of your trip to Wellington, New Zealand, take this foodie tour. Our guide Wilma walked us through the city, stopping for yummy treats while giving a great city tour. Our group was small and we all left stuffed with local culinary delights and great eating/touring info. A must do in fun, funky Wellington".

"We have just completed a self drive food and wine tour of the North Island. Two of the highlights were bespoke food tours of the Martinborough region and Wellington, both run by Zest. We cannot speak highly enough of the very special service that Heather in Martinborough and Fiona in Wellington provided. Both very informative and great company. Would recommend both to anyone with real interest in New Zealand produce and cuisine".
